

PICTWITCH POST

PICTWITCH 200TH ANNUAL SPRING FESTIVAL AND BONFIRE

Every year, thousands of people gather in the small town of Pictwitch to celebrate the annual spring festival and bonfire that is the heart of their culture. It is a mixture of fun and tradition that has been going on for hundreds of years.

The festivities start with a large bonfire known as the Sacrificial Bonfire, which is a tradition handed down through centuries. The fire is constructed with logs and other combustible materials, and once it is lit, it is said to purify the town and bring good luck to the people.

The festival is also known for its lively attractions, such as the famous and recently deceased Lilymoore twins, who, assisted by local residents, perform their comedy routine that is sure to entertain all ages. There are also plenty of games and activities for children, such as face painting, races, and the ever-popular soul eating contest. (Continued on pg.3)

A CELEBRATION OF LIFE: THE LILYMOORE TWINS BONFIRE

The Lilymoore Twins were two remarkable siblings, beloved by the Pictwitch community where they grew up. While one twin was delicate and shy, the other was lively and daring. (Continued on pg.2)

NEW VISITOR COMES TO PICTWITCH

Mrs Graves, spokesman for the Pictwitch Visitors Center, would like to

(Continued on pg 2)

MORE HIKERS GO MISSING

Fellow Pictwitches, more hikers have gone missing near the northeast trail! The Johansens were last seen heading toward Carcosa Caverns by members of the Eternal Order of Church of Starry Wisdom on Thursday. Our worst fears are that they strayed from the path and landed somewhere close to Forbidden Caves--which is Forbidden! Despite concerns (Continued on pg.3)

Unfortunately, the twins passed away at a young age. In observance of the twins' brief lives, the community holds an annual celebration for the two siblings each spring.

Instead of hosting the event the a funeral home and party palace, it is held outdoors around a traditional bonfire each year. Citizens present devotional offerings for the occasion, such as bunches of bananas for the more lively twin, and a few cans of BBQ for the quieter twin.

In furtherance of the siblings' legacy in the town, the local Starry Wisdom Church will also preside over the event. The priests will again recite the traditional verses of madness in dedication to the departed twins, in remembrance of the young lives that cut short. Like many spring festival bonfires, the priests chanted ancient rituals during the ceremony in hopes of blessings for those present.

The Lilymoore Twins' brief life still lives on in the mouths of the citizens and in the black heart of our fine hometown. The annual bonfire, held in their honor, truly serves as a reminder of the festival of life despite death. The flame of the bonfire illuminates the night sky, reminding all that the Lilymoore Twins still watch over their beloved city. Even in death, the Great Old Ones look over their children.

Announce the arrival of a new visitor to our friendly town of Pictwitch, Ohio. Mrs. Graves was quoted as saying, "We wish The Man in the Brown Truck a heart-felt Welcome!". The man in the brown truck responded with "Wait, what?...get your hands off me!".

Well Mr. Man in the Brown Truck, Pichwitch is not the Friendliest Little Town that's Neither Here nor There for nothing. Mrs. Graves also wants our residents to know that a planned meet and greet for the man in brown truck is scheduled this Saturday at the upcoming Pichwitch Spring Festival and Bonfire. Hope to see our residents there!

GET YOURS NOW AT "SHADY" JIMS! Conveniently located in the Pichwitch Shopping Plaza

Side effects may include watery mouth, dry eyes, nose bleeds, upset stomach, certain types of cancer, blisters, peeling skin, heart attack, stroke, organ inversion, existential dread, corporal displacement, unusual growths of eyes and limbs and death

As night falls, the air is filled with balloons and the hot and sweetly smell of the Man in the Brown Truck BBQ in the background. And, of course, there would not be a proper festival without the usual death and dismemberment. That's right - no matter how young or old you are, there is always something new and exciting to discover!

Those looking for a more spiritual experience may appreciate the Church of Starry Wisdom, which has been known to perform rituals and prayers to some of the darkest and mysterious creatures known to humanity. To a person of faith, these rituals can be the perfect way to connect with the things unseen.

But the real highlight of the evening is the hood figure parade which may give some attendees a fright, but this is how unforgettable nightmarish memories and ideas are made! Some of the more daring participants wear costumes of the Ancient Ones, or "Great Old Ones", and recite chants from worlds far from our own. Its a sight that is both amusing and frightening, yet always enjoyable. Then it all comes to a head when the local church of the Starry Wisdom steps out with drums, chanting, and great old ones worshiped in an eye-catching display of sheer terror and hilarity.

That the campers may have entered into the Forbidden Caves, its spokesman has assured us that no such activity has taken place recently.

Though our hearts are with the campers, we want to take a moment to thank our beautiful city for its commitment to Leave No Trace ethics. Mrs. Graves from Pictwitch Visitors Center is proud of us all for taking caution this time around. She stated, "We'd like to congratulate all residents for their dedication to preserving our natural environment! Let's keep it up, Pictwitch!" Great work, Pictwitch!

During the after-party, most of the town gathers around the bonfire once again, with more games to play, like tossing the biggest marshmallows and seeing the people on a stick race. As the celebrations finish up, the smells of the BBQ are everywhere and it's a memory for everyone forever.

At the end of the night, when the festivities have ended and the bonfire has been extinguished, the people of Pictwitch gather together in their joy and madness. Its a moment of pure insanity and fun, as everyone comes together to celebrate their community.

See Someone, Say Something Or Plan Your Next Trip

Call the Pictwitch Visitors Center and Tip-Line at:

(513) 278-7701

Or visit us at pictwitchohio.com

LocalWeather

Sunday

Eternal Void
100%

Monday

Cloudy with a chance of Existential
Dread
60%

Tuesday

Rain
100%

Wednesday

Spontaneous
Lava
20%

Thursday

Sunny
and Clear 100%

Friday

Mind
Numbing Fog
76%

Saturday

Starry
Night
100%